To the Learned Society of Artists,
or Students in Astrologie.

Gentlemen,

IT may seeme unto some improper, that this Meditation concerning the New Ferusalem, being the highest matter in Christian Divinity, is dedicated unto you, against whose Profession some Divines have inveighed. But if what followeth, be duly considered, it may appeare otherwise. Wigelius in that his excellent Treatise of Astrologie Theologized, saith: Astrologie is Philosophy it selfe, or it is the whole light of Nature, from whence ariseth the universall Naturall wisdom, or a solid, sincere, and exquisite knowledge of Naturall things: which light of Nature is twofold, externall and internall: Externall in the Macrocosme, internall in the Microcosme. True Astrologie therefore being so noble a Science, the Sincere Professors and Students thereof are worthy of much honour. And whereas it is objected, That it is an Art to be rejected, because vanities are crept thereinto, may not by the same reason the Studie of sacred Theologie bee omitted, seeing that not a few errors have entred into Bookes of the same? The holy Prophet David saith: The workes of the Lord are great, sought out of all them, that have pleasure thererin. His worke is honourable and glorious: and his righteousness endureth for ever. He hath made His wonderfull workes to be remembred. Psal. 111. 3, 4. 5. Moreover the God of heaven hath vouchsafed a speciall respect unto the well-minded Students in the Starres, in that Hee made some such the first publishers of the Birth of His Son the Lord Iesus Christ. Of whom S. Basil writing on the Nativty of Christ, among other things delivereth, that they πρὸς τὴν τήρησιν τῶν μετεωρίων ἐχολακότες, were addicted to the observing of Sublime things (matters in the Heaven.) And so Munster testifieth likewise, where he writeth: Hi magi nostri fuerunt precipui siderum contemplatores, quorum Dominus misertus novam condidit stellam, quae ipsos ad Christum perduceret. Now as yee are conversant in considering the misterie of the Starres, for to understand what the Eternall God (blessed for ever) signifieth and worketh in and by them, that yee may make the right use thereof unto the wellfare of Mankind; so are you to have in due consideration the chiefe of all Starres, the Spirituall Star, whereof the holy Gospel maketh mention, the a Day-spring from on high, which hath visited us, to give light unto them that sit in darknesse, and in the shadow of death, and to guide our feete into the way of peace: the b Day-starre which ariseth within our hearts: the c Morning-starre, which is given to the overcomers, which keepe Christ's workes unto the end, the which is the Lord Iesus Christ according to His eternall Divine Nature. Unto the knowledge of whose d great myserie, this present Meditation (how meane soever) may be further some unto you.

*He Discourse on the Spirituall New Jerusalem, being a matter above the reach of meere^a naturall understanding, will unto some seeme a^b strange doctrine, like as did the preaching of JESUS & the Resurrection, unto certaine Philosophers at Athens. Unto some others fearing God it will seeme marvellous, for that they have not^c heard of any such thing to be attained in this life. And therefore it is necessary to demonstrate out of the holy Scriptures, That there is such a Spirituall Being now enjoyable. It is said in^d Isaiah, Arise, be enlightned, for thy light commeth, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. For behold, the darknesse shall cover the earth, and grosse darknesse the people, but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and His glory shall be seene upon thee. Christ said unto His Disciples, ^eThe Spirit of truth the world cannot receive, because it seeth Him not, neither knoweth Him: but ye know Him, for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. Now the true people of God will like the noble^f Bereans, receive the Word with all readinesse of mind, and search the Scriptures daily, whether what is published, be according unto them, or no. It was said to the Church of^g Philadelphia, I will write upon the Overcommer, the name of the Citie of my God, which is the new Jerusalem, which commeth downe out of heaven from my God, Whence it is manifest, that at that time such a Citie was inheritable. To the^h Galatians the Apostle mentiooneth two Jerusalems, and saith, But Jerusalem, which is above, is free, which is the mother of us all. It is ⁱ expressly signified, that some of the Hebrewes unto whom S. Paul wrote, were then come unto the heavenly Jerusalem. And what the said City is, it is not unworthy of consideration, what is delivered in ^k Esdras, where it is said, Unto you is Paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is allowed, yea perfect goodnesse and wisdom, &c. and in the end are shewed the treasures of immortality. In the which ^l Booke it is written, I will give my people the kingdome of Jerusalem. The which appeareth to be the kingdome so often promised elsewhere, which S. Paul saith is ^m righteousness, and * peace, and joy in the holy Ghost. Whereof Christ saith, ⁿ Behold, the kingdome of God is within you. The which is affirmed by ^o David, to be in every age, and throughout all generations. The spirituall Jerusalem is the city, which the Patriarks insisted on, ^p whose builder and maker is God. The Apostle calleth it an ^q heavenly one. Whereas by Jeremiah it is said, ^r Jerusalem shall dwell safely, and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The Lord our Righteousnesse, and the said name ^s elsewhere is a name of Christ, it giveth to be considered, That the new Jerusalem in the mysterie thereof is the Lord Jesus Christ, according to His eternall Divine Nature, in the greatest ^t revelation of Him in this present world. The which may also appeare, that after the Cities description, the spirituall ^u coming of Christ is so mentioned and desired, as if it were expressed, If thou Lord Jesus dost come spiritually into us, we have then within us the glorious City described unto us. For the Apostle saith, ^w Christ is The All things in all. Moreover, whereas the new Jerusalem is set among the ^x last Blessings, which God vouchsafeth in this life, and the Scripture ascribeth the last Divine operations to be from the holy ^y Ghost, therefore this new Jerusalem salem in the Spirituall sense thereof, is observed to bee also that which is called the holy Ghost, it being considered in the amplest measure thereof vouchsafed now unto the Saints.

And that Really such a Spirit doth in Gods appoynted time come into the Spirit of his servants, very many Scriptures expresly testifie. So that it is manifest, that the Spirituall new Jerusalem is now attaineable through the grace of Almighty God. But whereas faith and hope are to be grounded upon the Word of God, therefore some Texts are to be mentioned, testifying of a Reall Spirituall Being, that entreteth into obedient Soules. ^a Behold, saith Christ, I stand at the doore and knocke: if any man heare my voice, and open the doore I will come into him, and will sup with him, and he with mee. If any man love mee, he will keepe my words;
and my Father will love him, and We will ^b come unto him, and make our abode with him. Hee also saith: ^c I will manifest my selfe unto him. It is often in the Gospell, that God the Father, Sonne, and holy Ghost, is now ^d in his Saints here on earth. It standeth written in the Margent of Psal.
68. 18. Heb. in the Man. From whence (as from other Scriptures) we may perceiue, that if wee would know Christ so farre forth as we ought, we are not to rest in the bare knowledge of the sacred ^e history of Him delivered by the Prophets, Evangelists and Apostles, but as Saint Paul saith, To know him, and the ^f power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his Sufferings, being made conformable unto his death, if by any meanes we may attaine unto the resurrection of the dead. We are to consider, how Christ is now ^g within us, and how Hee ^h may be in us, according as his Gospell teacheth. And as the Apostle prescribeth, ⁱ that we all with open face, as in the glasse beholding
the glory of the Lord, bee changed into the same Image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. It is true

To the unpartiall Reader.

true Christianity Zealously to consider, what Christ ^k requireth of us. His ^l delight is to be with the Children of men, to live, ^m dwell, and walke in us, ⁿ That wee be now His house, ^o Temple, ^p Garden, That he may ^q now administer His Kingdom written us, that wee ^r delight our selves in the Lord, and attaine to ^s ride upon the high places of the Earth, and be fed with the heritage of Jacob our Father, to ^t eate of his hidden Manna, and to have the new name, which no man knoweth, saving hee that receiveth it: and to have ^v fellowship with the Father, and with his Sonne Jesus Christ, that our joy may be full. And therefore the Apostle prayed for the Ephesians, that the eyes of their understanding being enlightened, they might know what is the hope of His calling, and what the ^w riches of the glory of his inheritance in the Saints is: ^x and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that they might be filled with all the fulnesse of God. To conclude, it appeareth to be no matter of indifference, whether we minde the new Jerusalem, or no. ^y The Revelation declareth the ill Spirituall estate of such, as either have it not within them, or are not preparing thereunto. Yea, the ^z word of the Lord, even in every booke of the same, witnesseth against all which are not endeavouring unto the same effect. Wherefore let us strive to be minded like ^a David, said to be a man after Gods own heart, which shall fulfill all his will, who professed: ^b If I forget thee, ^o Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roofof my mouth, if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chiefe joy: ^c That we may sucke and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations: that we may milke out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory. And so be comforted in Jerusalem. For ^d Zions sake let us not hold our peace, and for Jerusalems sake let us not rest, untill the righteousness thereof go forth

REV. 21. 2.

And I Iohn saw the holy citie, new Ierusalem, comming downe from God out of heaven, prepared as a Bride adorned for her husband.

Fore entrance be into the Interpretation of the Text, it is not impertinent to mention in brieft some of the different understandings of S. Iohns Description of the New Ierusalem. It hath been conceived by many, that it is wholly concerning the state of the Blessed, departed out of the body.

And it is true, that much of their blessednesse is therein signified.
There are of Antiquity, which have understood some deliveries thereof, to be concerning Christ's Church on earth: and it is ^b related, that certaine of them referred all things contained in the two last Chapters of the Revelation, unto the Church here on earth. Some of the ^c Moderne Writers have expounded the said Description, to be concerning the Christian Church, when as the Jewes are become one with the same. But most high understanding Authors in mysticall Divinity, deliver that there is a Spirituall sense thereof, on the which at this present it shall be altogether insisted. And that some places are so to be understood, it is expressly signified in the Revelation it selfe, where it is said, ^d And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which Spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was Crucified. All Interpreters aswell Hebrew as Greeke and Latine, do acknowledge that many Scriptures have a mysticall sense. And they which teach that every place of Scripture hath a forefold meaning, viz. Litterall, Allegoricall, Tropologicall, and Anagogicall, doe by Consequence grant, what is here affirmed. Yea Mr. Brightman teacheth likewise. For mentioning Ezechiels description of the Temple, f saith: The Prophet sheweth us that we are not to sticke in the shell of the lutter, but the kernell of the Spirit is to be searched and called forth.

Now S. Iohn having in the Verse afore the Text, signified of his seeing of a new heaven and of a new earth, and that the first heaven and the first earth were passed away, and that there was no more sea, delivereth, what was then shewed unto him, namely, the said most glorious Cittie. The consideration of the which Dependance may give us to understand, that if we would apprehend this heavenly Mysterie, and now partake of the Comfort therof, we are to endeavour to be, as the Gospell prescribeth, where it saith, g If any man be in Christ, hee is a new creature: old things are past away, behold, all things are become new. That saying in Esdras is considerable hereunto, viz. h I commanded thee to goe into the field, where no foundation of any building was. For in the place wherein the Highest beginneth to shew His city, there can no mans building be able to stand. Hence is it that we are so often put in minde of making a i new heart and a new Spirit; and not to be conformed to this world: k but (as the Apostle saith) to be transformed by the renewing of our minde, that we may proove, what is that good, that acceptable and perfect will of God.

Also it being added, and there was no more sea, it teacheth that if wee would now enjoy the said heavenly blessing, then the spirituall sea within mankind, is to cease in us more and more. The Apostle saith, l A meeke and a quiet spirit is a thing before God of great price: David saith: m The meeke will hee guide in judgement: and the meeke will hee teach his way. Sirach saith; n Many are in high place, and of renowne: but mysteries are revealed unto the meeke. o Also the Lord is in the still small Voice. And He is sometimes praised with the p silence of His servants, namely, when as the same is Requiste or enjoyned unto them.

There are foure things to be considered in this portion of Scripture.

Scripture. 1. Why it is said, I John saw the holy Cittie, new Ierusalem. 2. Whether it is signified to come downe from God out of heaven. 3. Sundry particular matters of the said most glorious City. 4. The profit or use of all the same.

1. Concerning the words I John saw the holy City, &c. whereas the name John is here expressed, and q els where after some peculiar manner, and the name Signifieth the grace of the Lord, it teacheth, that they are to be Spirituall Iohns, gracious Persons, to whom God will now vouchsafe an insight into the said spirituall and heavenly r Frame. Yea this is testified in the very beginning of this booke, where it is written : r The Revelation of Iesus Christ which God gave unto them, to shew unto His servants things, which must shortly come to passe, and Hee sent and signified it by his Angel unto His servant Iohn. For none but r spirituall Iohns are capable of the mysteries of the Gospell, as Christ said unto His obedient Disciples, u It is given unto you to know the Mysteries of the kingdom, but not unto others. And this point is confirmed by many Scriptures, as Mat. 11. 25, 26, 27. Dan. 12. 10. and 9. 13. Psal. 25. 12. 14. and 1 Joh. 4. 7. 8. &c.

Refutation.

The use whereof is first for Refutation, to declare that they are in error, which suppose that they can comprehend the knowledge of this city by their naturall wisdom and learning. The city is said to have a wall great, and w high: it is so high, as that none can looke over it or into it. The Apostle saith : x Eye hath not seene, nor the eare heard, neither have entred into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him. And there he writeth afore, That none of the y Princes of this world knew the wisdom of God : for had they known it they would not have Crucified the Lord of glory. And then hee sheweth, how the knowledge of such things commeth, saying: z But God hath revealed them unto us by His Spirit, for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea the deep things of God. Experience in all ages teacheth, that they come not into the a unity of the Faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God; but fall into some contrariety & much diversity which proceed not in b purification, as the holy Gospell prescribeth.

A third use is for Instruction, that we for to see this glorious city descending out of heaven from God, doe like John enter into spirituall ^k Ascension, with heart and mind to have our conversation in heaven: then (as Isaiah saith) our eyes shall ^l see the King in His beauty: wee shall behold the Land that is very farre off, which David calleth the ^m Land of righteousness, which is this city and kingdome of the Lord. Concerning the seeing here mentioned, that it may the better be understood, it is to be noted, that the Scripture signifieth of eyes within the soule, the which being opened, there is that seen, which the eyes of the body behold not.
 The ⁿ Apostle prayed for the Ephesians, that the eyes of their understanding might be inlightened. And Saint Paul saith, ^o hee was sent to open the eyes of the Gentiles. Elisba prayed the Lord to open the eyes of his servants, that he might see. And the Text saith: ^p The Lord opened his eyes, and hee saw that round about Elisba, which the eyes of his body perceived not. Also that is sometimes said to be seen, which is shewed to the understanding for to come to passe in his time. As John saith, ^q I saw another Angel flie in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting Gospell to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, &c. Hee understood, what should bee in the latter times.

The second point to bee considered is, Whether the New Jerusalem is signified to come downe from God out of heaven?
 And that the verse immediatly following doth declare, it being there said: And I heard a great voyce out of heaven, saying, Behold

 ap. 6. teacheth, that the whole New Testament is in some manner to be in us.

the Tabernacle of God is with men, and Hee will dwell with them, and they shall bee His people, and God himselfe shall bee with them, and bee their God. The which words doe expressly call the new Ierusalem Gods Tabernacle, and declare that it descendeth into his holy ones here on earth. This the Lord by Ezechiel promisseth to His people saying: I will set my Sanctuarie in the midst of them for evermore. My Tabernacle also shall bee with them: yea I will bee their God, and they shall bee my people. And of such Beeing of God within man, the Tabernacle made by Moses was also a signification. For as that consisted of three parts, so the Three (the holy, blessed and glorious Trinity) have their operation within mans soule. The Father with the Law, the Son with the Faith, and the holy Ghost with all other things which pertain to godlinesse, and comfort everlasting. And it being added, Prepared as a Bride adorned for her husband, thereby among other things is shewed the exceeding great excellencie thereof. It is called the perfection of beauty; it is said to have the glory of God, and her light to bee like unto a stone most precious, even like a Iasper stone, cleare as cristall.

So now in the third place, sundry particular matters of the said New Ierusalem are to be considered, as the Wall thereof. Whose foundations are garnished with all manner of precious stones, the which are observed to be Christian vertues. The first foundation is Jasper. y This stone is noted to bee of an heavenly brightness, whose beauty it is easier to admire than for to declare. It is said to have a variety of sweetnesse in it, and therefore to signify the rich treasure of Gods gifts in his servants, such as are mentioned in the Epistle to the Corinthians, where it is said: & To one is given by the Spirit, the word of Wisdom; to another the word of knowledge; to another faith, to another the gifts of healing, to another the working of miracles, to another Prophecie, to another discerning of spirits, to another divers kindes of Tongues, to another the Interpretation of Tongues.

The second precious stone is Saphire. It is said to glister with golden points, and so to betoken godly pleasantnesse in manners and conversation. a Such a vertue the Apostles professed and practised. It is said in the booke of Wisdom, b Wisdom doth reach from one end to another mightily: and sweetly doth

The third stone is a Calcedonie. And it is said to glister with a fierie brightnesse, and so to signifie zeale and fervencie in Christianity. The vertue of c right zeale is much renewed in Scripture. It is that holy d fire with which the people of God become Baptized, when as they are baptized with the holy Ghost. e It doth burne up and consume more and more all evill thinkings, speakings and doings.

The fourth precious stone is an Emerald, the which is said to have a most pleasant greenesse, so as nothing can more delight the eyes. And (saith Master Brightman) this greenesse is the most Divine f knowledge of matters, on which the minde of man doth desire to bee fixed, more than on any thing else. And (saith hee) it is placed next after Calcedonie, that so knowledge may accompany g zeale. The Apostle saith : b Brethren, bee not Children in understanding, howbeit, in malice bee ye children, but in understanding bee men.

The fift stone is a Sardonix. It is said to shine, or to have such a lustre, as hath the naile of a man, growing on his finger, having whitenesse mingled with rednesse. And it is observed to note out unto us the vertue of humanity and ingenuity, i sincerity and fairenesse of disposition. * Nathaniel was endued with this precious stone spiritually : for the Lord testified of him, saying : Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no guile.

The sixt stone is a Sardius : and it is said to be red all over with a bloody colour : and that so it may signifie a certaine severity. It is observed to bee joyned with the Sardonix, to very good purpose, lest perhaps k gentlenesse should waxe vile and contemptible, for want of such a companion as this is. The commandement is, l That all things bee done decently and in order. It is also prescribed, m that whatsoever things are venerable, be thought upon.

The seventh stone is a Chrysolite. It shineth throughout with a golden colour : and is noted to signify dignity and majestie. Gods Servants are to be endued with n weighty mindednesse : and as they are not to overvaleur themselves, so not to undervaleur themselves overmuch. The Apostle Paul had to doe with those, which did much undervaleur him : and therefore hee was constrained, sometimes to * declare his worth received of the Lord.

The eighth stone is a Berill. It is said to be skye coloured, and somewhat dark like water. And it is observed that the watry colour thereof betokeneth lenity and humility, such as water it self is, which will easily give place to every one. And so it is most meet company to follow the Majesty signified by Chrysolite, that so it may keep all within measure and compass. The vertue of lenity and humility is much held forth unto us in holy Scripture. It is said concerning Moses, that he was very meeke above all the men, which were upon the face of the earth. S. Peter saith: q Be ye clothed with humility. And Christ hath commanded, saying: r Learn of me, for I am meeke and lowly in heart: and ye shall finde rest unto your soules.

mercy, rather than to rigour of justice. p Numb. 12. 3. Sir. 45. 4. r Matth. 11. 29.

The ninth stone is a Topaz. One Writer saith, It hath in it the colours of all stones: and therefore it signifieth the study to be replenished with all vertues. Spiritual Topaz was in the high Priest Onias, concerning whom it is testified, That he was a vertuous and good man, reverend in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also, and exercised from a child in all points of vertue. Zacharias and Elizabeth are signified to have been endued with the same endeavour: for S. Luke writeth of them, That they were both righteous before God, walking in all the Commandements and Ordinances of the Lord blameless.

kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the High Priest, and his hatred. He is praised δια τὴν μισοπονείαν for hating of evill. Psal. 97. 10. r Luke 1. 6.

The tenth stone is a Chrysolirasus, which is said to be of a colour golden and green. And therefore it is observed to be the precious vertue the true and lively faith in Iesus Christ. The Apostle saith, That in Christ Iesus neither Circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but faith which worketh by love. The faith of the Thessalonians was said to grow exceedingly, and the charity of every one of them all towards each other for to abound.

The eleventh stone is a Jacinct. It is said to be of the colour of water having in it the Sun-beams shining. And therefore it is noted to signifie the Saints endued with wisdom and prudence. It is

The twelfth stone is an Amethyst, the which is said to have a purple colour. And whereas to wear purple was in old time the custome of the greatest personages, therefore this precious stone is observed to signify the c supreme solace in Christianity, attainable in this world, the which S. John professed to have enjoyed; when as he said : d That which we have seen and heard, declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with the Son Iesus Christ. And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

Venerable Beda writeth, that in the Jasper is signified the flive lines of faith; in the Saphire, the height of heavenly hope; in the Chalcedony, the flame of inward Charity; in the Emerald, the confession of a strong faith in adversity; in the Sardonix, the Saints humility among the virtues; in the Sardius, the honoured blood of Martyrs; in the Chrysolite, spiritual preaching among Miracles; in the Berill, the perfect operation of the Preachers; in the Topaz, their fervent contemplation; in the Chrysoprasus the work and likewise the reward of the blessed Martyrs; in the Jacinth, the Teachers heavenly mounting up unto high things, and by reason of the weak, a low descending unto humane things; in the Amethyst, a remembrance always of the heavenly Kingdom, in the minde of humble ones. Whereas David in the confession of his sins prayed for the buildings up of the f walls of Ierusalem, adding that then God should be pleased with the Sacrifices of righteousness, is it not mystically signified, that the wall in the spiritual Ierusalem within David had suffered some g decay, he giving way unto his lusts and evil desires; and that the virtues of Chastity, Temperance, &c. being repaired in him, he should then offer unto the Lord an h offering in righteousness?

The new Ierusalem.

2. There may next be considered the Pearle of the Cities gates. The Text is : The twelve gates were twelve pearls, every several gate was of one pearle. It is true, what some do mention in expounding this place, that Christ is the Gate and the pearle. And He is the most precious of all pearls, which God the Father hath given unto the Church, Most great is the myſtery of Christ : He is ſaid to be The all things in all. But S. John deſcribing this glorious City, doth aſcribe unto Christ ſor to be the ſpiritual Temple within the ſame. We may therefore ſee, how the Holy Ghoſt elſewhere hath expreſſed, what ſpiritual gates there are. David ſaith : Open to me the gates of righteouſneſs : I will go into them, and I will praiſe the Lord. 1 This is the gate of the Lord, the righteous ſhall enter into it, So that righteouſneſs is ſignified to be a gate alſo. And that Chriſtian righteouſneſs is alſo an heavenly pearle, it may appear from the teſtimony thereof, which Christ giveth ; where he ſaith : m whatſoever ye would that men ſhould do unto you, do ye even ſo to them : for this is the Law and the Prophets. If ye (ſaith S. John) that Christ is righteous, know ye, that every one which doth n righteouſneſs, is born of Him : In this the children of God are manifeſt, and the children of the Devil : o whoſoever doth not righteouſneſs, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

3. In the third place we may have ſome meditation on Angels at the gates. The Apoſtle ſaith : p Are they not all Miniſtring ſpirits, ſent forth to miniſter for them, which ſhall be heirs of ſalvation ? And where he mentioneth, that the Hebrews were then come unto the heavenly Ierusalem, he addeth alſo, q to an innumerable company of Angels. It is written in r Zechariah, that the Angel of the Lord proteſted unto Joſhua the high Prieſt, ſaying : Thus ſaith the Lord of Hoſts : If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou ſhalt alſo judge mine houſe, and ſhalt alſo keep my Courts, and I will give thee walkes to walk among thoſe that ſtand by. Thoſe ſtanders by are interpreted s Angels. r Whoſoever hath the new Ierusalem deſcending into him, ſhall more and more have ſome meaſure of underſtanding in the Scriptures deliveries concerning the Miniſtration of Angels. 4. In the next place there may be considered the City it self. It is said to be of pure gold, like unto cleer glasse. And whereas gold is the most excellent of mettals, there is to be noted, what vertue is the most excellent in the life and conversation of mankind, and so we may perceive, what the said spiritual gold is. w The Apostle having reckoned up to the Corinthians sundry of Gods gifts, willeth them to covet earnestly the best; adding, And yet I shew unto you a more excellent way. The which he x immediately afterward declareth to be the way of Charity, shewing the necessity thereof, and sixteen properties of it, and y concludeth, saying: now abideth Faith, Hope, Charity, these three, but the greatest of these is Charity. Whose excellency S. John signifieth, where he saith: z God is Charity, and he that dwelleth in Charity, dwelleth in God, and God in him. Who is also said to be His peoples gold as it is written in the book of Job. Yea, and the Almighty shall be thy a gold, and thou shalt have plenty of silver.

5. Now concerning the Cities Street, it is said to be pure gold, as it were transparent glasse. Mr. Brightmans words hereon are very memorable, viz. b The Streets be the high ways, wherein the Citizens meet together, when they have ought to do one with another. Even as therefore the ways of a man are the actions about which a man is conversant, so those streets of the city are those publike duties and traffickings, whereabout the citizens are employed diligently for the maintaining of this bodily life. The holy Ghost saith, That all these shall be holy, pure, clean, precious; for the place, wherein men shall meet to dispatch these affaires, is made of pure and glittering gold, as above, verse 18. How holy and unblamable shall this city be, wherein the common conversation of men, than which nothing useth to be more filthy and defiled, shall be free from all filthy wickednes. Now shall justice run down through the streets like a river, and true godlines shall shine forth in all the affairs of men. c Another saith: This golden lustre is said to be as cleer as glasse, thorow shining with brightness, that e all men may cleerly see the graces & favour of God, and even God Himself shining in the Saints, and so are the very streets of this holy city, where the Saints converse, of the same golden brightness of life and conversation in all their dealings, without such fraud and circumventions, as now the world is full of.

6. The cities Temple may next be considered. S. John saith : I saw no Temple therein : for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the Temple thereof. d God said unto the house of Israel : Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be unto them as a little Sanctuary, in the countries where they shall come. It is said in Isaiah ; e All thy children shall be taught of the Lord, and great shall be the peace of thy children. S. John said to the Ancients in Christ : f Ye have an Unction from the holy one, and ye know all things. But the Anointing which ye have received of Him, abideth in you : and ye need not that any man teach you : but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie : and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in Him.

7. The citie hath a special light ; for the glory of God doth lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. David saith ; g The Kings daughter is all glorious within. Where the h King of glory entereth, there is abundance of spiritual glory. It is to be observed, that as the light which cometh down from the i Father of lights is termed a k star, so is it also called a Sunne, a Moon, and a candle. David saith : l The Lord God is a Sun and a Shield : the Lord will give grace and glory : no good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly. Isaiah saith to the people of God : m Thy Sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy Moon withdraw it self : For the Lord shall be thine everlasting light. It was said unto n *Esdra*s : I will light a candle of understanding in thine heart. And (saith our Saviour) a o candle is not lighted to be put under a Bushel ; but on a Candlestick, and it giveth light to all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

8. The city hath a river. It is a pure river of water of life, clear as Christal, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lamb.

The Cities river.

John 4. 13, Lamb. Christ said to the woman of Samaria : p Whosoever drinketh of the water, that I shall give him, shall never thirst : but the water that I shall give him, shall be in him a well of water springing up unto everlasting life. Who also q pronounced : He that believeth in me, as the Scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living waters. S. John saith, This spake He of the Spirit, which they that believe on Him, should receive. As the Lord giveth r light of life in minde and conversation; so doth He s water of life. In Ezekiel it is t signified, to be at the first as waters but up to the ankles; afterward to become as waters up to the loynes. But at length to be as waters to swimme in, a river that cannot be passed over.

9. The city hath a constant food, the which is said to be the Tree of life, which beareth twelve manner of fruits, and yieldeth her fruit every moneth. It is signified to be a u Tree in the midst of the Paradise of God. And v a sanctified soul is a spiritual Paradise, as may appear from the Scripture, w O thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voyce : cause me to hear it. It is true that Christ is the tree of life, He is (as was aforesaid) Thee all in all. Now here for the more distinct expressing of matters, we are to consider, what holy Writ also saith, that the tree of life is. Solomon saith : x The wisdom of God is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her. He writeth also : y The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life. And the said wisdom hath furnished her Table, saying. z Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled. a Come unto me all ye that be desirous of me, and fill your selves with my fruits. Twelve manner of fruits the Tree of life beareth : for the Apostle saith : b Manifold is the wisdom of God, and c unsearchable the riches of Christ, which He communicateth more and more in His time. The Tree of life (as the d Text reacheth) is the fruit of the righteous, it is a nature, which is spiritual, upright, and just. The Lord Christ said unto his Disciples : e I have chosen you, and ordained you, that you should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my Disciples. Who said, f My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me, and to finish His work.

10. There is Physick also in the city. It is said : The leaves of the the Tree of life are for the healing of the Nations. As the Tree is spiritual, so are the leaves also. The infinite wisdom of God, which knoweth all maladies in the minde of mankinde, hath g means for the curing of every one of the same in the nations, that fear his great and glorious name. The Lord saith to Malachi: h Unto you that fear my name, shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings. David signifieth it to be unto the praise of the Lord, healing i all his diseases, and that his youth was renewed like the Eagles. It is said for the healing of the Nations. Such as have received the city into themselves, are in a comfortable measure of spiritual health. Isaiah saith, k The Inhabitant shall not say, I am sick. But such as are strangers have need of l eye salve, that they may see, in what condition they are, whiles they are (as the Apostle describeth) m without Christ, being aliens from the Commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the Covenants of Promise, having no hope, and without God in the world.

11. The citizens have a delightful prospect. It is written, they shall see Gods face. The Apostle saith; n God who commanded light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Jesus Christ. And David saith: o As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness. God in His time, in some measure and manner vouchsafeth unto His holy ones, to have within their spirits a certain beholding of Him, which though it be as through a p glasse, yet it is unexpressably joyfull. It is written, that the Lord hath q appeared at sundry times, and in divers manners to his servants here on earth, unto their great consolation. Job attained at length to say: r I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye seeth thee. Jacob said: s I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved. David said: t One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after, that I may dwell in the house of the Lord, all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in His Temple. u He therefore saith elsewhere: O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee: my have apprehended, that there is now some manner and measure of seeing God attainable, and also of knowledge of holy Angels. Potanus in his Sym.lib. 1. cap. 1. saith: Per Theurgicas consecrationes idoneum fieri animum Gentiles credebant, ad susceptionem spirituum Angelicorum, & ad Deum videndum.

12. It is a continuing city. There is added in conclusion of the Description, w They shall reign for ever and ever. New Jerusalem is a Kingdom, that cannot be shaken, it is a city invincible. It is said in Isaiah: y We have a strong city, salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks. z Thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that shall not be taken down, nor one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken. But there the glorious Lord will be unto us a place of broad rivers and streams, wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship passe thereby. For the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Law-giver, the Lord is our King, he will save us. It is said, the city lieth four-square: and one delivereth this b note thereon, that a four-square figure hath equal sides, and outright corners; and therefore the Grecians call by this name those things that are steady, and of continuance, and perfect.

And now in the fourth and last place there is to be considered the use and profit of the whole. A saying therefore in Esdras may first be mentioned, viz. c A city is builded and set upon a broad field, and is full of all good things. The entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water. And one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once. If this city now were given to a man for an inheritance; if he never shall pass the danger set before it, how shall he receive this inheritance? Even so also is Israel's portion.

There have been even in every age some, which have endeavoured to d finde out the Summum Bonum in this life, to comprehend in there have been so many divers opinions about the Summum bonum, as Varro relateth, He is said to have collected 188. thereabout.

what understanding and meditation the minde of man may enjoy most content : and some have conceived it to be one thing, and others another. But they which observe the harmony of the universal Scripture hereunto, and consider unto what Being now, every of the courses bringeth, do plainly perceive, that the enjoying of the spiritual Ierusalem is the Sovereign Good attainable in in this world. Solomon saith : e I sought in mine heart to give my self unto wine, (yet acquainting my heart with wisdom) and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that Good for the Sons of men, which they should do under the heaven, all the dayes of their life. And he afterward writeth ; f Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter ; Fear God, and keep his Commandements ; for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgement, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. g Sirach saith : And they that remain shall know, that there is nothing better then the fear of the Lord, and that there is nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the Commandement of the Lord. Wherefore for to enter into the said Spiritual city, S. John after the Description declareth the way thereinto, saying : h Blessed are they that do His Commandements, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in thorow the gates into the city. The study of all the i everlasting precepts is the paths thereinto. David saith : k Great peace have they which love thy Law, and nothing shall offend them. Whereas they which l delight not in the Law of the Lord, though they have a sound bodily health, and abundance of earthly wealth, yet they are voyd of the m peace of God in their consciences, they (as Isaiah saith) are like the troubled Sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt. The Apostle saith : n Tribulation and anguish, indignation and wrath is upon every soul of man that doth evill. And they which harden their hearts, and go on in disobedience, and sit in the seat of the scornfull, at length (as Isaiah delivereth) become to have bred within them the gnawing worm, which dieth not ; and to have a fire kindled within them, which goeth not out. o They are in a spiritual Hell, whiles they are in the body. We not literally have transgressed, but transgressing ; it speaketh of the present. See Prov. 9. 18. Mat. 3. 10.

are required to humble our selves for to p walk now with God, in the company of whose holy Spirit there is comfort unexpressable. But if He seeth us to set our affection on earthly riches or bodily q pleasures more then on Him, and do neglect r partaking of his holiness, and growing in the Christian nature, and s drawing neerer and neerer unto him in holy understanding and upright Conversation; that saying of David is to be remembered: z For loe, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou destroyest all them that go a whoring from thee. We are to consider, that we came to be on the face of the earth, for to u seek the Lord (as Saint Paul teacheth) if haply we might feel after Him and finde Him, though He be not farre from every one of us. For in Him we live, and move, and have our being. Also now to endeavour to w live in His image and likness, which is heavenly wisdom, righteousness, and true holiness. And to x press toward the mark, for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Iesus. We are not to make it our chiefeft care, how to y lade our selves more and more with thick clay (as the Lord speaketh in Habakkuk) much less to z set our whole hearts on thick clay (as innumerable do, and at lest perceive that they lived not in a right minde:) for Christ pronounce-eth him to be a a fool, that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich towards God.

The first thing therefore that every one is to do, that would lay a firm foundation for his spiritual welfare now and everlastingly, is throughly to know his own b heart, to examine and search unto what it is inclined, whether towards c union with the Creatour (blessed for ever) with His Spirit, minde, and life; or whether for to cleave unto somewhat which is not the Creatour. Jeremiah saith d the heart of man is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it? The Lord searcheth the heart, and trieth the reins, even to give every man according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his doings. Solomon saith: e The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way. It is to see how it agreeth with all Gods word, how we are decreasing in what is not good, and how we encrease in the Christian vertues, and how we do now enjoy more and more the promises or the blessings, that are bestowed in this f life. The one only cause, why there is so much difference, is, because we judge others, afore we have g duely judged our own selves by Gods h universal Scripture. It is a great property in the fall of man, i Self love, a good k opinion of ones own spiritual estate, afore he hath thoroughly examined it. He that would enjoy now the Spiritual City, may obey the Apostles counsel: l If any man among you seem to bee wise in this world, let him become a foole, that hee may bee wise. It was a charge laid against Moab; m Moab hath bin at ease from his youth, and hee hath n settled on his lees, and hath not bin emptied from vessell to vessell, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his tast remained in him, and his sent is not changed. And saith the Prophet: o Our sinnes have withholden good things from us. It is signified therefore that they in p Hell, repenting and groaning for anguish of spirit, shall say with themselves: Wee have erred from the way of truth, and the light of Righteousnesse hath not shined unto us, and the Sunne of righteousness rose not upon us. Wee wearied our selves in the way of wickednesse and destruction: Yea, wee have gone thorow desarts, where there lay no way: but as for the way of the Lord, wee have not knowne it. What hath pride profited us? or what good hath riches with our vaunting brought us?

3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. * The way unto the New Ierusalem spiritual, in which the Patriarchs, Prophets and Apostles, and all the people of God, have ever walked, and so in this life enjoyed it, is plain and perfect manner declared in the Treatise intituled. A way unto true Christian unity.

The next thing is to q set the new Ierusalem spirituall before our eyes, to be a marke whereat to aime and to presse towards it, meditating on the good things therein, and to use all meanes furthering the passing therinto. Also not to insist much on r great company in the journey, but to s save our owne selves, to get as soone as may be into the city for the increase of our owne t good. For it is a land flowing with u milke and hony: a land which the Lord God careth for: w the eyes of the Lord God are alwayes upon it, from the beginning of the yeere even unto the end of the yeere. And so now x comming unto mount Sion, and unto the

AN APPENDIX

Concerning A S T R O L O G I E.

GOD Almighty himself (blessed for ever) having said :
 a Knowest thou the Ordinances of Heaven ? canst ^{a Job 38 33} thou set the Dominon thereof in the Earth ? giveth to be understood that there is an appointed Course for the Heavenly bodies, and that they have a great operation in Naturall things here on earth. Junius in his annotation on the verse doth thus expound : An cœli cursum & effecta in inferiora moderari potes, quæ instituerat Deus ? The which also the Lord hath expressed, where afore He said : ^{b Job. 38. 31.}
 Canst thou binde the ^c sweet Influences of the ^c seaven Starres ? or loose the bands of Orion ?
^c So it is ren-dred in the Margent.
 Castelleo interpreteth the sweet Influences to be the pleasantnesse of the Spring time, whereof those Starres are Instruments. And Junius saith on the bands of Orion, That With them he is wont to bring (or cause) showres, tempests, and colds. ^d It is also said : canst thou bring forth the twelve ^e signes in their season, &c. Or canst thou guide Arcturus with his Sonnes ? It is Written, that they fought from Heaven, the Starres in their courses & fought against Siserā. The which Junius signifieth to be by raines, windes, hailes, stormes. The Lord also saith :
^g I Will heare the Heavens, and they shall heare the earth. In the booke of Daniel it is written : ^h God doth according to his will in the Army of Heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth. Seeing then that the heavenly bodies have dominion in the earth, as God hath signified, sundry of His servants have bin conversant in meditating on the same, according to the Scripture. ⁱ The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them, that have pleasure therein. Doth not Job declare to have had some knowledg in the Stars saying : ^k Which maketh Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the South. Solomom delivereth, that among other matters of wisdom, which God gave unto Him, hee received the knowledge of the Positions of the Starres. And he signifieth, that the power and vertue of the lights of Heaven is so great, as that men have bin ^m astonished in the consideration of the ^m same.

same. And he writeth: n By the greatnesse and beauty of the creatures proportionably, the maker of them is knowne. The Apostle saith:
o The invisible things of Him from the Creation of the World are cleerely seen, being understood by the things that are made, even His eternall Power and Godhead. The Jews report of Abraham, that he was an excellent looker into the Stars. So p Buxtorfius delivereth to be the meaning of their saying אברהם כלבו של אברהם Astronomie (or q Astrologie) was in the minde of Abraham. They have also a deliverie considerable hereunto concerning the Starres operations in things here on earth: אין לה עשב ועשב מלמטה שאין לו מור ברקיע ומכה אותי המור ואומר לו גרר

That is, t thou hast not any hearb below, unto the Which there is not a Starre in the Firmament, and that star striketh it, and saith unto it, grow thou. s Moses mentioneth of precious things brought forth by the Sun, and of precious things put forth by the Moone. He teacheth, that God set lights in the Firmament of Heaven, and among other causes, that they should be for t signes, and for seasons, and for dayes and yeeres.
And now Whereas true Astrologie doth abundantly declare Gods won-derfull workes in Nature, it is therefore a Science much to be honoured for the excellency of the Learning. But yet some Object against it, whose mistake We Will endeavour to discover, that Truth may appeare
the more plainly.

It is Objected, That whereas in Deut. 18. 10. the using of divination is forbidden, and that divining is a part of Astrologie, therefore the said Art is unlawfull.

Answer. As there is an unlawfull divining, such as is acted by help of the ill Spirit; so is there also a lawfull divining. It is said in Micah 6. 3. Therefore night shall be unto the Prophets, that yee shall not have a vision, and it shall be darke unto you, that ye shall not divine. It is much considerable, what is writtren in Isa 3. 1. 2. That the Lord would take from Ierusalem, the mighty man, and the man of War; the Judge, and the Prophet, and the Diviner, &c. Here the Diviner is set among those, which were of a lawfull condition. The word is rendred Prudent. The Chaldean Praphrase hath it משתא one Which is asked and counselled withall concerning matters to come, as Shindler the reputed most learned interpreter of the Nobler Eastern Tongues hath expounded. The Lord Christ declareth, w that in some natural naturall things there may be of foretelling, what is likely to come to passe, as sometimes by the evening to conjecture of the day following, &c. Moreover, it is observed, that such were the children of Issachar, concerning whom it is written, & that they were men which had understanding of times, to know what Israel ought to doe. And the Scripture saith, all their brethren were at their commandement, they followed the words of their mouth. y Osiander saith: Hebraice, Scientes intellectum temporum, ad cognoscendum (id est) qui norant, quomodo in bello opportunitate & occasione temporis utendum esset: ut sciretur in exercitu, quid pro re nata facere deberet populus Israel. In bello enim pleraque consilia extemporalia sunt.

x 1 Chr. 12. 3
y In his comment on the place.

Obj. The Arabick Translation hath rendred the Hebrew word, Hee that exerciseth Astrologic. Therefore the said Art is there forbidden.

Ansiv. No Version is of sufficient Authority to prove or disprove by, in matters of controversie, but the Originall Scripture only. The five bookes of Moses are extant also in the Samaritan Tongue, and in the Persian: the Gospel is set forth in the Syrian and Ethiopian. And good use may be made of these antient Translations for the illustration of many a point. z But whereas Translatours doe sometimes render Texts according to the Divinity of the country wherein they dwell; and sometimes they expresse matters according to their owne private affection, and sometimes in difficult sayings, they knowing not the minde of the holy Ghost, doe interpret unperfectly, therefore no doctrine is to be grounded upon their meere Translation. Yet the Learned have a speciall consideration of the a Chaldean Version of Moses and the Prophets; and of the b Syrian of the Evangelists and the Apostles, in regard of their antiquity, and also of the Greeke called the Septuagint, and of the Vulgar Latine. But that which we are to insist on, is the Hebrew, Chaldean, and Greeke, which the Divinely Inspired men wrote, and is in the Church preserved unto this day. From the Arabick Version therefore nothing can be concluded, forasmuch as also in the Hebrew word there is no maner of signification of Astrologic, there is no importing of Starre therein.

Hebrew words: and therefore being at such difference among themselves the private opinion of any one of them is of no authority. c Gemination of letters in a word doth lessen the signification, saith R. Abraham; but R. David saith, it doth increase the same. Certaine Nounes ending in ai are by the Chaldee rendred plurally; d but R. Solomon would have them to be singular. D. Forster in the preface afore his Learned Hebrew Dictionary undertaketh to demonstrate great imperfection to be in the Iewes, as concerning the interpretation of the sacred Hebrew.

Moreover, the Learned Hebrician Buxtorfius rendreth the word praestigiis utens, praestigiator, a juggler. Hee saith: The wise antients derived the word from עין an eye: and that they have written עין את העת That Megnonem turned an observer of times, is hee that holdeth the eyes, that dazzles the eyes of the beholder. And therefore he hath set the word as a Derivative from the primitive — עין an eye.

But though the word be read an observer of times; yet pure Astrologie is not spoken against thereby: It speaketh of such observing of times which the wicked Canaanites used, in whom the ill Spirit ruled and reigned. And that there is some lawfull observing of times, continuall experience teacheth it, in Physitians, Husbandmen, Marriners, &c. Who by observing of times about matters in the common course of Nature, doe prevent many inconveniencies and dangers, which they foresee likely to come to passe.

Wee will conclude this Answer with Learned Osianders delivery on the Hebrew word, who writeth: Hi credantur esse ii, qui certis incantationibus homines, aut jumenta curaturos se promittunt: item qui horas observant, non Physice, juxta motum Lunae aliorumve planetarum: sed superstitiose, nulla evidente ratione. Tales sunt etiam, qui in magna sexta feria, neque equum calciare sinunt; neque terram aratro proscindere, quod utrumque infau- stam falso opinentur.

Obj. Only Christ the great Prophet, and they to whom he gives the divinely inspired gift of Prophecie, must foretell things to come: no art may undertake it; for it is opposite unto Christ.

Ans. There is Prophecie concerning Matters Spirituall, and prophecy concerning Matters Naturall. Astrologie teacheth, what is likely to come to passe in things according to the set course of Nature. e

Ans. If it can be proved, that Soothsaying is any part of true Astrologie, then the argument holdeth against it. But whereas it cannot bee so demonstrated; therefore the Objection is void of power.

Obj. It is said: k That frustrateth the tokens of the liars, &c. That is of Astrologers.

k Isa. 44. 25.

Ans. If it can be proved, that true Astrologie hath in it any lying tokens, that any lying tokens are grounds in the said Art or Science, then there is some likelihood of truth in the Application: but Whereas it cannot be proved, therefore the Inference is not true.

Obj. It is said: l Let now the Astrologers, the Starre-gazers, the Monethly Prognosticators stand up. &c. Sure enough here Astrologers: expressely, and under severall other names and notions also are bitterly inveighed against.

l Isa. 47. 13.

Ans. Let us see whether the Hebrew Word signifieth Astrologers, It is rendred in the Margent, Viewers of the Heavens. And others are viewers of the Heavens besides Astrologers, as Astronomers, naturall Philosophers, &c.

But Objection is, That it is a viewing of the heavens for to declare some matter to come to passe thereby. And is it a sinne, to view the heavens, for to see what is likely to fall forth, according to the common course of Nature, and in naturall things?

Obj. But the next speech Starre-gazers hath the word Starres therein: and therefore it must needs meane Astrologers.

Ans. The Hebrew is כוכבים רואים which Shindler turneth videntes in Stellis, seers in the Starres. It appeareth, that it is not absolutely forbidden unto any for to looke into the Stars: for then Astronomy is self were. unlawfull.

The last speech is the Monethly Prognosticators. The Margent saith the Hebrew is, that give knowlede concerning the Moneths. And is it unlawfull to make a Prognostication, to set downe concerning every moneth in the yeere, what is considerable according to the common course of nature? It is manifest, that the holy Prophet Isaiah doth not signifie, that to view the heavens, or to looke into the Starres, or to give knowledge concerning the moneths (for so the Hebrew Text speaketh) are matters of sinne and wickednes; but hee findeth fault with those which were conversant in these exercises, that they used not them aright. Is it good reason to say, that the profession of Physicke is unlawfull, because some practising therein doe abuse that honourable Science?

Jer. 10. 2.

Obj. It is said: m Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signes of Heaven, for the heathen are dismayed at them. Here Astrologie is forbidden.

Psal. 103. 19.

Amos 4. 7.

Deut. 28. 23.

Levit. 26. 19.

Ans. The scope and drift of the Prophets words is, that the People of Israel should not so stand in awe of the signes of heaven, as the heathen were. For many of the heathen looked no higher then the Firmament. They considered not, that there is an eternall Almighty God ruling over all. The Lord saith by Amos: o I have withholden the raine from you, when there were yet three moneths to the harvest: and I caused it to raine upon one City, and caused it not to raine upon another City: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered. p God denounced to the Israelites, that for their Transgressions He would make the heaven over their head to be brass, and the earth under them to be iron. He would change Natures course, according to his holy and righteous pleasure. And whereas hee will do so sometimes, His people are not so to feare the Judgements signified in the heaven as do the heathen, which know not the God of Israel, as if there were no way to escape them; but to remember, What the Lord saith by Joel, q that though he doth roare out of Sion, and the heavens and the earth shake, He will be the place of repaire or harbour to his people, and the strength of the children of Israel. Zephaniah therefore teacheth them their duty, saying: r Seeke righteousness, seeke meekenes; it may be yee shall be hid in the day of the Lords anger.

Wee conclude this Answer With Osianders words on the Text: Ne discatis impietatem gentium, quæ non modo meteora inusitata, & motus syderum observant, atque ex iis de futuris eventibus pronunciant, verum etiam ita metuunt a constellationibus, ut earum effectus ffectus evitare non posse existiment. Hæc enim Gentium est impietas, nec populum Dei decet. Non, damnatur Astrologia pura, (quæ nihil habet de magia, si modo quis Astrologicas prædictiones pro conjecturis, non autem pro vaticiniis certis habeat.

Obj. In Dan 2. Astrologers are named among Magicians and Sorcerers; therefore their profession is unwarrantable also.

Ans. The word there rendred Astrologers; in the last Translation, is by Shindler otherwise expounded. Hee saith חֲשִׁבֵּן signifies a Philosopher, an Astronomer and Physician, which by the Pulse and Urine can judge of the Bodies passions, which dreames doe imitate or follow.

R. Abraham also doth so expound the word. Avenarius observeth, that σοφός, wise, answereth to the said Hebrew word. Learned s. Alstedius doth in like manner where he writeth: חֲשִׁבֵּן sapiens. Hinc σοφός, nisi malis חֲשִׁבֵּן sapienter cogitavit.

Encycl. Pag. 140.

To conclude this answer. If there were any one Hebrew Word, which properly signifieth an Astrologer, why then doe the Rabbins use the words ἀστρολόγος and ἀστρολογία in Heb: letters, as אַסְטְרוֹלוֹגִים and אַסְטְרוֹלוֹגְיָה Astrologie?

See in Buxtorfs greater Chaldaic Lexicon.

In the holy Bible printed Anno 1540. to be read in Churches, and continued therein many yeeres (for ought which can be found) there is not any the least mention of the word Astrologer. Astrologian or Astrologie. And it may be observed, that in sundry Translations, the words rendred Astrologers and Astrologians are otherwise interpreted.

Obj. It is said in Act. 19.19. Many of them which used curious Arts, brought their bookes together, and burnt them before all men. And they were bookes of Astrologie. And therefore Astrologie is damnable.

Ans. If it can be proved, that among the said curious Arts, true Astrologie was one, then it would follow, that it is unlawfull. But whereas that cannot bee, therefore that Text maketh nothing against the same.

The Syriacke Text hath it חֲשִׁבֵּן which Tremellius rendreth Magicam artem exercentes. And Junius in his annotation thereon saith: Lucas τὰ τελεγγα vocat ἐφέβια γεγυμμένα πελεκητά, amuleta & periapta quælibet Magica, quorum Scientiam & artem libris expresserant. Recte itaque Syrus & Arabs interpretes de rebus Magicis interpretati sunt.

u Alstedius that late Learned Writer delivereth thus concerning Astrologie: qui illam superstitionis damnant, usum per abusum tolli putare videntur, admodum sophisticæ. Utilitas autem ipsius inde manifesta est; quod eclipses, tempestates, & alia infinita per hanc scientiam prædicantur. Hinc Astronomia traditur propter Astrologiam, & ad eam refertur tanquam ad finem & ἐντελέχειαν. Cur enim docemus & discimus sphaeram & theorias planetarum? Annon, ut vires stellarum cognoscamus, & res futuras, quatenus per nostram imbecillitatem fieri potest, prædicamus? Whereof the Summe is, that though the profession of Astrologie hath bin abused by some, yet the lawfull use of it is not therefore to bee taken away. For what is there, how good soever, that hath not bin abused? Many are the profits of it about naturall matters pertaining unto this life, and therefore it is to bee duely respected.

In his Treatise concerning Astrologie in his Encyclopæd.
